G.P.O. BOX: 3793. DHAKA. BANGLADESH. PH. 500354

The purpose of the Bangladesh Institute of Planners is to promote the advancement of the planning profession in Bangladesh; and to guide and regulate professional activities and assist in maintaining the required standard in the general and professional conduct of its members. Its particular sphere of activity is comprehensive planning for the development of the nation through planning of regions, urban and rural communities and their environs. In this regard, the Institute shall disseminate among its members information relating to planning and encourage and extend help to foster coordination with other colleges and universities in Bangladesh and in other countries, and assist in literary undertakings and research works and as such to promote the cause of planning and integration between planning and socio-economic development in Bangladesh.

The Institute shall also advise and control such educational establishments where students and apprentices may obtain and acquire sound education and training in planning on such terms as may be settled by the Institute. The Institute shall also extend cooperation to various government, semi-government, autonomous and private agencies connected with planning activities and advise them in matters concerning the practice and promotion of the profession. The Institute shall also take steps to advance and expedite the art and science of planning in Bangladesh and promote fellowship, cooperation and coordination among its members.
